Ike Optimistic About American Missile Setup

President Says U.S. Has No Need for Any Hang Dog Humiliation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the United States is making very remarkable progress in the ballistic missile field and has no cause for hang dog humiliation.

The President made the statement at a news conference in commenting on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's announcement Tuesday that the Soviet Union has intercontinental ballistic missiles in production.

In apparent reference to the question of whether Khrushchev was saying the Soviet Union has ICBMs in mass production, Eisenhower said he has no way of knowing just what was in Khrushchev's mind.

Somewhat wryly, the President added that we seem very prone to give 100 per cent credence to statements by the Soviets if they happen to deal with our own desires.

On the other hand, Eisenhower went on, we dismiss other Soviet statements as bald-faced lies. Without ever saying whether this country has intercontinental missiles at the production stage Eisenhower said that the U. S. missile program is going forward as rapidly as possible under the direction of capable scientists.

Then he said very remarkable progress is being made and that the nation has no cause for any hang dog humiliation.

On the contrary, it should be a matter of pride, he said. The President also dealt in the news conference with these other matters:

POLITICS—Commenting on criticism of him at a Republican conference in Des Moines last week, Eisenhower expressed belief that most Republicans understand and support what he called his middle of the road program. He said he has been attacked from both sides so far as his moderate program is concerned. He called that natural and proper and remarked that you have to take it.

A reporter asked Eisenhower how he felt about a call by the Republican campaign chairman in Congress for him to take a more active and decisive role in bestirring what the President has termed the hibernating GOP elephant.

Eisenhower replied he believes he has made his position on party principles and programs perfectly clear in many documents and speeches the last six years.

Anyone who doesn't know for what he stands just hasn't read his remarks thoroughly, Eisenhower added.

In reply to another question Eisenhower said he has been asking many Republicans, as well as friends of the party, since the GOP defeats in November, just what should be done to get the party on the right road.

He added he has no plans for a formal party conference to deal with the problem, but would not object to one if leaders want it.

As for whether he has been copying Democratic New Deal programs, as some conservative Republicans contend, Eisenhower replied emphatically he has copied nothing in the world except the basic principles of Americanism. He said he has tried to apply these principles to the problems we face.

CASTRO — He is certain, the President said, that all of the American people hope Cuba's new government, set up by the forces of Fidel Castro, will be truly representative of the Cuban people. He made that remark when asked about his impressions of Castro and events which have occurred in Cuba.

The President said he did not want to indulge in any discussion of Castro's personality or the events.

Ike Urges Congress Approve New 20-Point Labor Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today urged Congress to enact a 20-point program designed to eliminate labor-management abuses.

In a special message, Eisenhower called his program a complete and effective approach to the problem. He said it is not a piecemeal program.

He also declared it is "essential to assure the American public that true, responsible collective bargaining can be carried on with full protection to the rights and freedoms of workers and with adequate guarantees of the public interest."

"These recommendations, when adopted, should do much to eliminate those abuses and improper practices, which, I am firmly convinced, the American public expects and believes will be corrected through legislative action," he said.

"Equally important, they will do so without imposing arbitrary restrictions or punitive measures on the legitimate activities of honest labor and management officials."

Some of the changes Eisenhower proposed were asked by labor unions, others by employers.

Eisenhower's recommendations signaled the start of a congressional battle with sharp political overtones.

A bill already introduced by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) was termed a half measure by the President Tuesday.

In his message, Eisenhower proposed tightening Taft-Hartley laws against certain forms of picketing and secondary boycotts—matters not included in Kennedy's bill.

Getting in ahead of the President, an AFL-CIO spokesman told Congress today that such picketing and boycott proposals would endanger passage of any labor bill this session. The AFL-CIO made it clear it would fight any new picketing and boycott bills.

Andrew J. Biemiller, AFL-CIO legislative representative, outlined that stand before a Senate Labor subcommittee an hour and a half ahead of the presidential message. The President's recommendations generally, however, were along the lines believed acceptable to labor. In fact, he offered one surprise—a Taft-Hartley law change designed to speed up union representation elections. This would make it somewhat easier for unions to obtain bargaining rights from employers.

Like the administration's bill last year—and like the Kennedy measure this year, the President's

40 Families Need Aid Here Due to Flood

An estimated 40 Circleville and Pickaway County families need assistance here due to damage caused by last week's flood, according to the local Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Homes suffering the most damage were located on Rosewood Ave., Dewey Park Trailer Court, Neuding's Trailer Court and homes along the Island and Canal Roads and Route 22.

Red Cross officials said many of the families have suffered total loss of furniture and clothing. Many homes also have interior damage, they added.

Local officials estimate that at least $5,000 will be needed for assistance in rehabilitation here.

Persons afflicted last week during the flood are encouraged to stop in at the Red Cross office to state their losses and needs.

Contributions may be mailed to the American Red Cross, 114 1/2 N. Court St.

new proposals call for detailed accounting to the government of union fund spending, with heavy penalties for fraud.

Eisenhower's program:

1. A requirement that all unions file such detailed annual reports with the Labor Department—as well as with union members—covering their financial operations; open to public inspection.

2. Require all unions to file with the Labor Department, as public information, copies of their constitutions and bylaws and certain other information.

3. All unions would be required to keep proper records on the matters on which they must report.

4. Unions and their officers would have to keep proper records on any payments or investments which create conflicts of interests or which interfere with the statutory rights of union members.

5. Union officers would be accountable for administration of union funds and property. This duty would be enforceable in courts in accounting suits.

6. Minimum standards for the conduct of elections of union officers, or their recall, would also

Cuban Rebels Delay Third Crimes Trial

HAVANA (AP)—The third show-case war crimes trial of Batista army officers was postponed today for celebrations of the 106th birthday of Jose Marti, Cuba's George Washington.

A military tribunal considering an appeal from the first Batista sentence to death in the capital, ex-Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, also suspended its deliberations, apparently to await new defense evidence.

The second defendant, ex-Capt. Pedro Morejon, also was expected to appeal the death sentence given him early Tuesday.

Officials of Fidel Castro's revolutionary army meanwhile announced arrests at five different places on charges of plotting to overthrow the new regime. Large supplies of weapons and ammunition also were seized, the officials reported.

Details of the alleged plot were not made public, but authorities said reunions of subversive elements had been held in various places. The plotters presumably were followers of ex-president Fulgencio Batista, the ousted dictator.

There was some speculation whether the third Havana war crimes trial would start Thursday after the Marti birthday holiday. The defendant is former Lt. Col. Ricardo Luis Grao, 45, charged—as Sosa Blanco and Morejon were—with assassination, homicide, and robbery. The new regime had called the three the top war criminals of the estimated 1,500 persons arrested since Batista fled Jan. 1.

Now This Car Is Economical

WESTFIELD, N.J. (AP)—High school students here have built the last word in economy cars, a model with a $50 price tag that doesn't require any gas at all.

The car, modeled after a 1903 DeLton, was built by 50 students under the supervision of two industrial arts teachers. It has wire wheels, black upholstery and a glistening maroon finish.

It has no motor. The students may get around to that detail next term.

be required. Union funds could not be used to promote candidates for union offices.

7. Regulate union action in putting local unions under trusteeship.

8. Give the secretary of labor power to police the union fund accounting and require democratic procedure in union operation.

9. Require union members, concealing or destroying records, and for improper payments between employers and union leaders.

10. Preserve for union members any present remedies, under state or federal laws, in addition to those recommended in the new administration program.

11. Tighten present secondary boycott bans of the Taft-Hartley law so as to prohibit coercion of employers as well as employees.

12. Prohibit picketing to compel an employer to give a union bargaining rights in cases where employees have indicated they don't want a union.

13. Authorize the National Labor Relations Board to refuse to take cases where the impact on commerce is relatively insubstantial, and transfer jurisdiction over such cases to state courts or agencies.

14. Eliminate a present ban against strikers voting in an election to determine whether a union shall continue to represent a struck employer's workers. Eligibility of strikers to vote would be left to the discretion of the NLRB.

15. Permit the NLRB to grant construction trade unions bargaining rights before employees are hired, and without an election.

16. Authorize the NLRB to hold bargaining rights elections without prior hearing where there is no substantial objection.

17. Make employers, as well as union officials, file non-Communist affidavits.

18. Prohibit any requirement to negotiate a change in a collective bargaining agreement during the life of a contract, unless by mutual consent.

19. Authorize the president to appoint an acting general counsel of the NLRB whenever a vacancy in that office occurs.

20. Require that the five-man NLRB be politically bipartisan with no more than three members from the same political party. There is no such present requirement, and the board at present has three Republicans and two Democrats.

Auto, Garage Hit by Fire At Jones Home

A fire at the Robin Jones residence, 128 N. Pickaway St., caused damage estimated at $1,500 yesterday. The Circleville Fire Department answered the call at 1:40 p. m.

Chief Palmer Wise said flames destroyed Jones' car and gutted a garage in which the auto was parked. He said cause of the blaze was not determined.

Chief Wise said a power mower, tools and paint also were destroyed in the blaze. The 1957 model car probably is a total loss, he added.

According to Jones, the auto had not been removed from the garage since Saturday. Chief Wise said his department still is investigating in an effort to determine what started the fire.

FIREMEN said the blaze was out of control when they reached the scene.

It marked the second fire here in two days. Monday night firemen were called to the Wayne Martin farm on Valentine Road to battle a blaze which destroyed a barn.

Good, 40, 137 Walnut St., filed petitions as an independent candidate seeking the City Councilman seat from Ward 4.

Good is assistant chief of quality control for Lincoln Molded Plastics Inc. He is a lifelong resident of Ward 4, graduating from Circleville High School in 1936.

Huffer filed petitions for the Democratic nominee for City Solicitor. Huffer, the incumbent, is a 1948 graduate of Circleville High School and received his law degree from Ohio State University in 1954.

HE SPENT TWO years in the U. S. Army Artillery being discharged a first lieutenant. He has been engaged in the practice of law here since 1956.

Steele, 29, 720 S. Court St., filed his intention of seeking the Republican nomination for City Councilman from Ward 4.

Steele, associated with Steele Produce Co., is a 1947 graduate of Circleville High School and attended Miami University. He is married to the former Marilyn Hennis and the father of a son and daughter.

Bell, 41, 581 N. Court St., is seeking the Republican nomination for one of three City Councilmen-at-Large posts. He is a graduate of Circleville High School and Ohio University.

Bell is active in community affairs being a past president of Kiwanis, Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is an incumbent.

Ohio Fuel Gas To Boost Rates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. announced today that gas rates in 50 Ohio communities will increase March 1 because of higher cost of natural gas from suppliers.

Rates will be increased a half cent a thousand cubic feet in Mansfield, Athens, Bellevue, Bucyrus, Mount Vernon, Nelsonville, Newark, New Lexington, Pleasant City, Roseville, Sparta, Willard, Avon Lake, Gallon and Marion, among others.

An increase of one per cent per cubic foot will apply in Magnolia and Zoar; two and one-half cents in Barnesville, Logan, Middleport, Wellington and Urbana; and three cents in Carrollton, Navarre, Strasburg and Washingtonville.

W'msport School Open, Water OK

Williamsport school children have not been drinking impure water and the school has not been closed.

That was the report today from J. H. Lanman, superintendent of Westfall School District, and Cecil Roebuck, supervising principal of the Williamsport school.

Yesterday R. L. Blaney, county health sanitarian, reported that the children had been exposed to untested drinking water and the school was closed. However, today he said he was misinformed.

The false report apparently was brought about by the fact the village water system was shut down temporarily during the high water period last week, and tests are being made in Columbus to check water purity, similar to the Circleville situation.

Monday, before school began, it was discovered that a valve had been turned switching untested village water into the school system. However, the change back to the school's well, which have been OK'd, was made before school started.

Lanman said that the school's well was heavily chlorinated to clear it of any traces of untested village water, prior to the time children were able to use school water.

Despite Doubts, U.S. Plans Exploring Thaw in Cold War

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States intends to explore fully the Soviet Union's talk of a cold war thaw despite an officially expressed belief here that Moscow is simply trying to create an illusion of peace.

This country and its chief Western allies are preparing for a wide open high level East-West conference on German and related European issues which diplomats now consider probable in about three months.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference Tuesday that so far the Soviet government has demonstrated "a very strong desire to delude us into thinking the cold war is ended," but no direct interest in proposals to end it.

Nevertheless, he said, he thinks it is timely to have another meeting either of foreign ministers or other high officials because it is occasionally possible, he said, to reach an agreement with the Communists which "tends to promote international peace on a fair basis."

The latest Kremlin move toward a new East-West conference came Monday when Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev told a group in Moscow that he thought "there is a possibility of a thaw in our relations" with the United States.

He said he got that impression from the report he received on Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan's visit to the United States earlier this month.

Khrushchev told the 21st Communist party congress in Moscow Tuesday that "There are no grounds for clashes between the American and Soviet people."

Adlai Not Certain About Other Fellow

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson says he is impressed by the way Edmund G. Brown has started out as California's governor.

Brown was elected to his first term last November.

Stevenson told reporters Tuesday he has heard a lot of talk about Brown as a possible 1960 Democratic candidate for president or vice president. Brown was present at the news conference.

But Stevenson wouldn't speculate on who the candidates might be. Stevenson and Brown both claim they are not in the running.

A reporter asked: "How about a Stevenson-Brown ticket?" "I'd be in favor of Brown," replied Stevenson, "but I have great misgivings about the other fellow."

City System Gets Approval By State Lab

Residents Can Stop Boiling Water for Human Consumption

"It's OK."

With those words, the state lifted the ban on boiling of water for human consumption, placed on the Circleville Water Department last Thursday.

At 3:45 p. m. today F. H. Waring, chief of the Division of Sanitary Engineering for the state, approved the Circleville water system as safe.

Ervin Leist, city utilities manager, then issued the statement that all persons can halt the boiling of water.

School will start again tomorrow after a 4 1/2-day layoff due to the water situation.

Leist earlier had expected an OK on the water system at noon, but the report from the state was delayed until further tests could be made here after noon. Leist and R. L. Blaney, sanitarian, tested the water system at 19 points for chlorine. There was a trace at all points, so Waring gave the go-ahead signal.

All samples tested at Columbus proved there was no contamination in the water.

THE WATER was first shut off at 2:05 p. m. last Thursday when the swollen Big Darby Creek began to edge into the municipal pumping station about a mile northwest of the city.

At that time the system was full of pure water. At intervals the water department turned the water back on at a High Street valve, allowing use of water for short periods.

Then at 11:30 a. m. Friday, a tie-in was made with the Container Corporation of America's deep wells. The city was offered use of the water free of charge. Using CCA deep wells and pumps, water was put into the city system through fire hydrants.

As water began to recede, the water department moved back into the pumping station. It was cleaned and electric motors reset to pumps. At 4 p. m. Sunday the pumping station resumed operations.

A half hour later the connection with CCA wells was unfastened and the city was on its own for the first time in 53 hours. The generosity of the Container Corporation kept water available to the city's 11,000 residents throughout the trying period.

Since any interruption of water supply makes the possibility of water becoming contaminated much greater, the water had to be tested by the state. Water samples were taken to Columbus Monday morning by Leist.

The test took 48 hours. Other water samples were taken to Columbus later Monday and again yesterday. The 48-hour tests on them will be continued to make certain the water is pure.

The loss of 4 1/2 days of school has put teaching schedules behind somewhat. The Board of Education will decide at its next meeting, Tuesday, on what steps to take to make up for the lost time.

Flood Brings Revival of Scioto Conservancy Talk

By J. I. SMITH III
Herald Staff Writer

In the wake of last week's worst central Ohio flood in 46 years, interest in the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District has been heatedly revived.

The quarter-of-a-century-old conservancy district was dissolved Dec. 29, 1958 by the 17-member district court. The vote was 12 to 5.

Voting for dissolution were Judges John Carroll, Crawford; O. W. Whitney Jr., Delaware; John P. Case, Fayette; Myron B. Gess-man, Franklin, the presiding judge;

Darrell R. Hottle, Highland; Gerald A. Baynes, Madison; Paul Smith, Marion; Leland Rutherford, Morrow; Bernard J. Hawk, Sandusky; Ralph S. Grue, Seneca; Leroy Allen, Sugar, and Russell Kear, Wyandot.

Judges against dissolution were William Ammer, Pickaway; Earl Parker, Pike, Howard Goldsberry, Ross; Vernon Smith, Scioto, and C. W. Smith, Vinton.

MONDAY THE Pickaway County Commissioners went on record favoring an appeal be made against the district's dissolution in the 10th District Court of Appeals, Columbus.

According to Judge Ammer, a proponent of the conservancy's continuance, an appeal will be made by Ray W. Davis, County Prosecutor, representing the County Commissioners.

The appeal deadline was set for Thursday, 20 days after the district filed an entry with the Franklin County Common Pleas Court, notifying the court of its majority vote to dissolve.

Judge Ammer yesterday received a letter from the district's presiding Judge Myron Gessaman asking if he favored a convening of the court and if he would reconsider changing his vote.

Judge Ammer stated in answer to Gessaman's questions that he favored a meeting of the district, but his position of favoring continuance of the conservancy district was unchanged. Numerous stories have resulted in the last few days—an outgrowth of flood damage suffered by counties within the district's jurisdiction.

Indications are that if the conservancy district had been in actual operation and construction of dams and reservoirs had been effected, flood damage last week would have been held to a minimum.

John H. Dunlap Jr., Route 1, Williamsport, was a director of the conservancy district for 14 years. At the dissolution meeting, Dunlap was defeated for re-election because he favored continuance of the district.

Dunlap stated last Wednesday, prior to the flood, that he felt the district necessary to the welfare of the Scioto River area.

HE SAID he was extremely sorry that the district was disbanded, but maybe it was just as well to abolish it and start over again without the counties, which desired dropping out.

Dunlap stated that the district has been under a constant siege of litigation, preventing it from operating properly. He said, "Just when all litigation was disposed of and it was ready for forward progress, members voted to dissolve it."

Dunlap said there were two sides to the dissolution question, "but soon, or in 15 to 20 years, this area will have dams and reservoirs for control of the Scioto River and other streams which feed the Scioto."

The Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District held its original organization meeting on Dec. 4, 1934. Among its strong supporters were the late James I. Smith Jr., D. D. Dowden and Judge William D. (Continued on Page 10)

Wife To Add $50 To Surprise Fund

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Robert Wallace, 67, a machinist, has picked up $4,628 which Circuit Court at Kalamazoo, Mich., had held for him since 1947.

Wallace, told the Kansas City Times Court Clerk Philip Hasing wrote out the check for the money which was left in a court trust fund after Wallace moved to Kansas City and his Kalamazoo home was sold under a mortgage foreclosure. The sale price was $4,628 greater than the mortgage.

Wallace didn't know he had the money coming until last Saturday when he was told by Roger D. Kullenberg, a Kalamazoo Gazette reporter.

"I've got another $50 coming," said Wallace. "My wife bet me $50 that the report about the court having some money waiting for us was not true."

Teacher Panel Recommends Use of Joplin Plan Here

A panel of educators appeared before the American Assn. of University Women branch meeting Monday night to report on progress of the Joplin Plan at Jackson Twp. School.

Included on the panel were Robert Seward, general supervisor of Pickaway County Schools, Mrs. Mable Walker, 4th grade teacher, and Miss Del Rennie, 5th grade teacher.

The panel was moderated by Mrs. Clifford Bowser, with the assistance of Mrs. Alfred Johnson. The moderators were on the original AAUW committee which proposed use of the Joplin Plan in the county school system.

The plan includes fourth, fifth, and sixth graders. For one hour each morning the children split up for reading. There is no grade level for the reading class; each child reads at his own level.

THE CHILDREN on the lower level go to one room, the average children go to another room, and the higher level go to still another. Thus, some of the children may be reading from first grade books while others have advanced in reading to the ninth grade.

In the afternoon each child stays in his own room for a shorter period of free reading. This is a library in each room containing books ranging from the second grade to the ninth grade level.

Labor Management Slated For Duel on SUB Measure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Labor and management big guns open a barrage tonight in the Ohio Legislature to blast away a legal barrier to supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB).

The opening hearing on the SUB measure in the Senate comes only a day after Gov. Michael V. DiSalle urged action on the matter "at the earliest possible moment."

The SUB bill is sponsored by two of the senate's most influential Democrats, Majority Leader Frank W. King of Toledo and Sen. Charles J. Carney of Youngstown. It would permit a laid-off worker to receive state unemployment compensation and SUB from his employer at the same time.

The Ohio Supreme Court has held that SUB is remuneration and must be deducted from state benefits. Steel, rubber and auto firm representatives are expected to join labor in urging legislation to permit SUB in Ohio.

Instead of taking headlong action, the two legislative houses paused to take a second look at two bills asking a total of 13½ million dollars — 3 millions for emergency flood relief and 10½ millions to cover the state share of regular poor relief for the rest of the fiscal year which ends June 30.

The House wants assurances the 3 millions won't duplicate Red Cross aid to flood sufferers. The Senate wants to be sure the 10½ millions will do the whole relief job for the rest of the fiscal year.

Indications at the close of the first hearing on Carney's fair employment practices (FEP) bill were that it will be before the Senate for a floor vote fairly soon. Next Tuesday's meeting of the State Government Committee, of which Carney is chairman, will be devoted to hearing opponents to FEP.

DiSalle's state-of-the-state message urged "action now" on FEP.

The Carney bill would set up an Ohio Civil Rights Commission of five and an executive director to enforce rules and regulations to prevent discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry. Employers of four or more persons would be affected.

Another 33 bills were introduced during the day, including measures to:

Exempt restaurant meals and prescription medicine from sales tax.

Provide an additional Common Pleas judge in Lake County.

Require that a child entering school must be six years old by Sept. 15.

Permit the closing of court-houses on Saturdays without reducing pay of employees.

Set minimum pension for teacher with 25 years service at $100 monthly.

Establish telephone emergency system on turnpikes with phones no more than three miles apart.

Ohio Firm's Contract Loss Irks Buckeye Congressman

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators have produced testimony that an Ohio firm lost a $550,580 contract to build a government sawmill on Formosa after a protest by another concern that wanted the job.

A House Foreign Affairs subcommittee says favoritism to another company by someone in the International Cooperation Administration (ICA) may have blocked the firm—the Enterprise Co. of Columbiana, Ohio.

A member of the subcommittee, Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio), went further. He said during the investigation: "I am for sending someone to jail for this mess."

ICA officials denied any favoritism.

Enterprise, whose president is William K. Stamets Jr., was low bidder on the sawmill ICA wanted built on Formosa. This was on March 18, 1957.

Four months later, an official of U.S. Wallboard Machinery Co. of New York, an unsuccessful and higher bidder than Enterprise, wrote ICA that Enterprise lacked foreign experience for the work.

ICA later announced it would not award the contract to anyone. Instead, it said it was negotiating a $650,000 contract with Fairhurst Technical Services to manage the project.

In their testimony before the subcommittee, ICA officials said they had to have experts to run the project hired before putting it up.

The investigators did draw a statement from A. J. Harris, manager of the Sawmill Division of U.S. Wallboard, that he wrote ICA a letter after his firm was turned down for the job.

"Did you write a letter to ICA expressing any thoughts of your own to the effect that the Enterprise Co. lacked foreign experience?" asked committee chairman Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa.).

"Yes," Harris replied. "We know they do not have any because we are their export department on their circular sawmill machinery."

Hays asked Harris: "Do you consider it ethical to try to get a bid rejected of a company that you are their export representative? Is that part of business ethics?"

"Wait a minute, Mr. Hays," Harris replied. "We do not represent Enterprise, except for circular sawmill machinery. . . . We are competitors on Band Sawmill Machinery."

Hays reported: "That is a fine point. I suppose there is a technical difference there. It escapes me at the moment."

Road Damage Estimate Is Nearly Doubled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Highway Department has almost doubled its estimate of road damage from recent floods.

Additional reports from division engineers have increased the estimate from $3,410,000 to $7,500,000, the department said today. It said that more detailed damage reports will be received as the water continues to recede.

Eighty-one sections of road in the state are still impassable, the department added.

"I heard that a man in our town gave a $1,500 ice-making machine to the country club," Dr. Wissman explains.

"I figured if there were people around with that kind of money to give away why couldn't we get some of it together to support summer study opportunities for our teachers."

The Columbus foundation collected and donated its first private money in 1956. In three years it has awarded grants to 56 Columbus teachers for summer projects including a Spanish teacher's tour to Valencia, Spain.

Private gift support for faculty research work and advanced study is widespread in colleges and universities. The Columbus foundation apparently is a pioneer in doing this job for elementary and high school teachers.

"The effect on teacher morale has been notable," declared Clarence E. Robbins, school superintendent. "And we now find we have an important advantage in recruiting good new teachers."

Robbins said 60 per cent of the Columbus school system teachers hold master's degrees. No more than 10 per cent of the teachers have master's degrees.

The foundation, has budgeted $12,000 for summer study projects this year.

About $10,000 was spent last summer on such "faculty enrichment" as mathematics study at New York University; gifted children workshop study at Stanford University; counselling study at Denver University; Shakespeare institute study at Yale University; advanced science and mathematics study at the University of Virginia and study at the Bread Loaf Writing Workshop in Vermont.

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—The issue was a burning one but throats stayed cool in the clear chambers of the Washington State Senate.

When the arguments were over, the air was still clear.

Smoking senators had won on a voice vote to retain a regulation against smoking.

An opponent said of the rule: "Its only purpose is to provide a modicum of horseplay."

"We are entitled to a little relaxation," said a backer of the regulation. "And besides, it provides cigars when someone is forgetful."

That cleared away the smoke around the seemingly strange position taken by smoking senators.

Smokers wait patiently until a fellow senator or a member of the press lights up. Then one of them points out the rule-breaker.

Mahoning Flood Cost Set at $4,277,000

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Damage caused by a flood of the Mahoning River is estimated at $4,277,000 by Mayor William C. Burbank of Warren. Some 300 persons evacuated from their homes during last week's flood were permitted to return to their homes Tuesday.

Several hundred still were being cared for at the National Guard Armory and Packard Music Hall.

4 More Ohio Counties OK'd for Flood Assist

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Small Business Administration announced today four more Ohio counties—Monroe, Morgan, Sandusky and Washington—have been designated disaster areas, as the result of floods.

This will permit owners of homes or businesses damaged or destroyed by the floods to apply for rehabilitation loans at 3 per cent interest.

The agency previously had designated Franklin, Licking, Knox and Muskingum counties in Ohio as disaster areas as the result of flood damage.

Martini Cooler Brings Teacher Aid

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A gift of an ice machine to chill country club martinis inspired a community foundation that finances advanced study for public school teachers.

More than 500 school board members gave two hours of concentrated attention to a National School Boards Assn. section meeting Monday night to a how-to-do-it explanation of the Columbus, Ind., foundation idea.

The idea was born with Dr. W. L. Wissman, Columbus physician and school board member.

Ohio Firm's Contract Loss Irks Buckeye Congressman

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators have produced testimony that an Ohio firm lost a $550,580 contract to build a government sawmill on Formosa after a protest by another concern that wanted the job.

A House Foreign Affairs subcommittee says favoritism to another company by someone in the International Cooperation Administration (ICA) may have blocked the firm—the Enterprise Co. of Columbus, Ohio.

A member of the subcommittee, Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio), went further. He said during the investigation: "I am for sending someone to jail for this mess."

ICA officials denied any favoritism.

Enterprise, whose president is William K. Stamets Jr., was low bidder on the sawmill ICA wanted built on Formosa. This was on March 18, 1957.

Four months later, an official of U.S. Wallboard Machinery Co. of New York, an unsuccessful and higher bidder than Enterprise, wrote ICA that Enterprise lacked foreign experience for the work. ICA later announced it would not award the contract to anyone. Instead, it said it was negotiating a $650,000 contract with Fairhurst Technical Services to manage the project.

Expert on Other Persons' Ancestors Shuns Data on Self

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An 80-year-old man who spent his life tracing people's ancestors guarded his own life so closely that when he died friends were unsure of his first name.

Robert L. Brownfield Jr., was a genealogist or family tree tracer. He came to Miami 27 years ago but nobody seems to know where from.

He moved into a hotel and kept to himself. Recently he became ill in the night and started for the telephone. Before he reached it, he died. His body was found three days later.

One hotel resident thought he remembered Brownfield's talking once about being president of a bank in Pennsylvania. Another, who had lived in the hotel as long as Brownfield, did not know his first name.

Brownfield's desk was cluttered with papers. They were filled with clues about other people's background. There was nothing about himself.

He reported: "That is a fine point. I suppose there is a technical difference there. It escapes me at the moment."

Farm No Place for Teamsters

Some persons regard Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York as being farther to the left than most political leaders in the United States. He will be tested on that score during his administration. One test confronts him now.

New York farmers say they will be at the mercy of the Teamsters Union if they do not get certain enactments from the state legislature with the support of the governor.

It seems that the Teamsters are moving to organize the farmers and are staging strikes that interfere with the marketing of perishable products. The situation is particularly critical in the New York City metropolitan area milk shed. The Teamsters control transportation of all milk going into it. When they order strikes, the dairy farmers are hurt.

The associated farm organizations of the state of New York propose that Rockefeller support two legislative measures. One bill would permit farmers to get injunctions against drives to put them into the union. The other would permit any producer of a perishable crop to get an injunction against a strike that denied transportation to his crop.

Former Governor Harriman vetoed one of these measures in the last session of the legislature. The other died in the Senate.

That the Teamsters Union could possibly do any good for the farmers, or for the public interest, by organizing them is inconceivable. The union could, of course, increase its dues paying members and so fatten its treasury.

In view of the well known methods of that union, it would appear that both governor and legislature would support the farmer request enthusiastically.

Your Doctor Need Doctoring?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Doctors, like their patients, often put off being doctoring too. A survey showed one out of four physicians with hypertension waited two years before seeking treatment, and 14 per cent with peptic ulcer postponed treatment for five years or more.

Did you know a mink coat made of female skins is supposed to be preferable to one made of male skins? It is reportedly finer-haired and lighter in weight.

Beau Brummell, famous 19th century British dandy, is sometimes credited with being the first man in modern history to take a daily bath. But, alas for cleanliness—later in life he became dirty and slovenly, and died a senile pauper.

Taking a bath, incidentally, is still something of a problem in some parts of the United States. Three million American homes still lack running water.

As men get scarcer, the girls are giving them less and less chance to get away. The average engagement period 30 years ago was a year or more. Now it's from five to seven months.

Do you share the popular misconception that most actors are sissies? They aren't. Many are ex-athletes and most keep in top physical condition.

Do you like to lie on the rug while watching television? Well, cut it out: you may get sick. Some statisticians have figured out a 9-by-12-foot rug collects three pounds of dirt in a year and nests 11,914,000,000 germs.

For people who don't like air condition, a trip to the moon offers a fine escape. The temperature there ranges from 215 degrees above zero by day to 240 degrees below zero at night.

If you've ever wondered why there are so few vine-covered cottages around Wall Street, Manhattan's famous financial district, here's your answer: Land there is conservatively valued at $15,000,000 an acre. And seats on the New York Stock Exchange have ranged in price from a high of $625,000 in 1929 to $17,000 in 1942.

To get money quickly from a banker, tell him you want it to put on a second bathroom in your home. This is one of the projects for which it is now easiest to get a bank loan.

It was George Bernard Shaw who observed, "The more things a man is ashamed of, the more respectable he is."

An Assault on Privacy

By George Sokolsky

Months ago, I read an article by Anthony Harrigan of the "Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier" on surrender of privacy which was both true and interesting. He wrote:

"... The radio and television, the giant metropolitan newspapers which consider all human experience their province, the nationally syndicated columns, the mass circulation magazines that emphasize 'inside' news of people, industry and government-inspired questionnaires and polls that probe areas of life considered private not long ago, credit bureaus and private detective organizations, wiretappers and security personnel reports—all these institutions, inventions, and developments have been employed in an assault on the walls raised to shield citizens from the public gaze."

And now we have this extraordinary picture of C.B.S. putting on a show to describe the doings of the urban creature generally referred to as the "Call Girl." Edward R. Murrow, who reads broadcasts for Columbia, was the narrator, which in radio and television parlance usually means that the script was prepared by a team of often anonymous and sometimes accredited researchers and writers.

The sum and substance of the broadcast was that vice is a business, well-organized, efficiently managed and designed to get business for companies which employ ladies of the night for the purpose. As show business this broadcast may have had some value, just as a strip-tease has curate presentation of data, I doubt whether much stated on that broadcast could be established in a court of law.

"Call Girls" are women, ranging from the age of perhaps 17 to 40 or so, who make themselves available to meandering men for a consideration, ranging from $50 a visit upwards to a diamond or a mink.

Some "Call Girls" are prostitutes; some are conversationalists who keep an old man from falling asleep over his soup. Some of them end their days in poverty; some marry into the European nobility or men of wealth in this country, are received in Cafe Society and have their pictures printed in newspapers and magazines. In a word, some of them, having found a way to security, turn up their noses on their own past and at those who pursue the same course.

That the business is immoral is obvious, but our society has tended in the direction of looseness since the 1920's and has not improved during the current Era of Abundance. The Income Tax which forces businessmen to pad their expense accounts if they are to be saved from the tax collector encourages excesses of all kinds, particularly eating, drinking, and hilarious parties after conventions and meetings.

The psychologists and sociologists may philosophize all they want to about why an educated, well-reared girl will enter upon such a profession but if they did not live in ivory towers, if they associated with human beings instead of statistics, they would discover that in a materialistic period, when morals and manners are loose, diamonds and mink coats become unduly attractive and as long as no religious scruples impede the desire to get something in the easiest way, there will be some who will get it that way. How much difference there is between a "Call Girl" and a woman who has four or five husbands in rotation, I do not know.

In a word, the "Call Girl" is a product of lack of religion, lack of respect, lack of decorum which appear early in life in this country, where a child will answer when a parent objects, let us say, to a costume of blue jeans and dirty white socks, "I must live my own life."

"Call Girls" are the feminine counterpart of the money boot-licker, the fellow who becomes a millionaire by tax evasion and tax avoidance, the banker and manufacturer who sells the assets of his country to its enemy, the politician who plays footsies with American Communists, the labor leader who organizes a strike which further accelerates the inflation and thereby robs the worker of his wages.

It is a period of moral degeneration and the "Call Girl" is a characteristic of the age. A proper news account would provide names, dates and places. Great reporters never claim immunity from responsibility for the truth.

"Build a better mousetrap and maybe the only result will be that you'll catch a higher type of mice."

"If you're waked up in the morning feeling groggy and listless, just remember you're ahead of the game if you wake up at all!"

A tramp knocked warily on the door of a moderately large residence, and bowed meekly when a powerful lady answered the summons. "Sure and what does a miserable runt like you be comin' round to bother me about?" she demanded with an obvious Harvard accent.

"If you'd be so kind," said the tramp humbly, exhibiting a small object in the palm of his hand, "I'd like to get a coat sewed on to this button."

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

Q. "Please discuss chronic mastitis. Can it lead to something else?" — M.M.

A. "Mastitis" means inflammation of breast tissue. Chronic indicates that the condition has been present for quite some time. Mild breast inflammation, which shows up as a tender spot or lump is often due to repeated slight injury as might be produced by a tight bra. In chronic cystic mastitis there are breast lumps but not much inflammation. The lumps may be of almost any size and may or may not be tender. A fair percentage of breast cancers seem to start in the changes of chronic cystic mastitis. It is very important that any unusual breast conditions be brought to the attention of your doctor. Early discovery and prompt medical advice is a must in breast disorders. Knowing this, many women examine their breasts every month or so, just to make sure. For free booklets showing how self-examinations are made write to The American Cancer Society, Louisville, Ky.

Q. "I read a lot about heart trouble and its cause but I am more mixed up than ever. How important is diet, exercise and other things in causing heart conditions?" — A confused reader.

A. You have every right to be confused because there is no simple explanation. Rich diets increase blood fats in some people which, in turn, is thought to be bad for blood vessels, including the coronary vessels that feed the heart muscle. However, there is no absolute proof that this alone causes coronary attacks. Higher than usual blood fats may be just one of many factors. There seems to be some individual or personal susceptibility to coronary disease. This proneness is probably influenced by many things such as heredity, diet, sex hormones, physical exercise (or lack of it), mental stress, and other life situations. What can we do to combat heart disease? As a start we might develop healthier habits and try to live more moderately. However, caution shouldn't be carried to the point of stripping away all incentive or push. Few would suggest that we exist in a continuous state of boredom just so we can live long enough to develop something besides heart trouble.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The memory of Stalin is getting a favorable revival in the Soviet Union.

Three years ago at the Communist party congress Nikita S. Khrushchev denounced the old dictator as a tyrant and murderer. At the 21st party congress Tuesday Khrushchev reversed himself and paid tribute to Stalin for having made possible Soviet progress from a backward state to a great power.

Why? What happened in the three years to justify the switch?

It was expedient for Khrushchev to do what he did in 1956. Then he wanted to replace the scowling Stalin-image of the Soviet Union.

ion, which was the only one the world knew, with the image of a jolly, friendly land.

In three years, under Khrushchev's prodding, the Soviet Union has made a lot of progress in inching in on neighboring countries, with economic help and other influences.

But something else has happened, too: the Soviets have made such evident progress in science that the world has to respect them for their progress and their power.

Khrushchev can afford now to be more charitable to the memory of the old tyrant whose bloody regime spanned not only the Soviet Union's most formative years but most of its existence from the 1917 revolution until now.

There's another point: historically Khrushchev would look a little ridiculous trying to make a hobby of downgrading Stalin for, no matter how the dictator was despised, it was he who made the Soviets present progress possible.

He did it at terrible cost in human lives: not only through his purges and his police terror but by keeping the masses on an extremely low economic level while Soviet resources were pumped into industrial development.

At this price progress—toward making the U.S.S.R. an industrial and scientific giant — was achieved. That much can never be taken away from Stalin. It would be foolish for Khrushchev or anyone else to deny Stalin's accomplishments.

But perhaps the most interesting thing that has developed out of the nation taken over by Khrushchev is that its achievements have been so dazzling the world has grown cautious about dismissing too lightly Soviet claims for the future.

For example: Khrushchev is launching the Soviet Union on a 7-year plan of economic development. There was a time, back in the 1930's, when Soviet plans did not seem particularly impressive, since the economy was on a low level.

But since the world's realization of Soviet development—particularly in missiles—there is bound to be a hesitancy about taking lightly Khrushchev's claims for the future.

He knows it, of course, and it's one reason why, perhaps, he can afford to look as relaxed and self-confident as he does.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Doctors, like their patients, often put off being doctor'd too. A survey showed one out of four physicians with hypertension waited two years before seeking treatment, and 14 per cent with peptic ulcer postponed treatment for five years or more.

Did you know a mink coat made of female skins is supposed to be preferable to one made of male skins? It is reportedly finer-haired and lighter in weight.

Beau Brummell, famous 19th century British dandy, is sometimes credited with being the first man in modern history to take a daily bath. But, alas for cleanliness—later in life he became dirty and slovenly, and died a senile pauper.

Taking a bath, incidentally, is still something of a problem in some parts of the United States. Three million American homes still lack running water.

As men get scarcer, the girls are giving them less and less chance to get away. The average engagement period 30 years ago was a year or more. Now it's from five to seven months.

Do you share the popular misconception that most actors are sissies? They aren't. Many are athletes and most keep in top physical condition.

Do you like to lie on the rug while watching television? Well, cut it out: you may get sick. Some statistician has figured out a 9-by-12-foot rug collects three pounds of dirt in a year and nests 11,914,000,000 germs.

For people who don't like air condition, a trip to the moon offers a fine escape. The temperature there ranges from 215 degrees above zero by day to 240 degrees below zero at night.

If you've ever wondered why there are so few vine-covered cottages around Wall Street, Manhattan's famous financial district, here's your answer: Land there is conservatively valued at $15,000,000 an acre. And seats on the New York Stock Exchange have ranged in price from a high of $625,000 in 1929 to $17,000 in 1942.

To get money quickly from a banker, tell him you want it to put on a second bathroom in your home. This is one of the projects for which it is now easiest to get a bank loan.

It was George Bernard Shaw who observed, "The more things a man is ashamed of, the more respectable he is."

An Assault on Privacy

By George Sokolsky

Months ago, I read an article by Anthony Harrigan of the "Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier" on surrender of privacy which was both true and interesting. He wrote:

"...The radio and television, the giant metropolitan newspapers which consider all human experience their province, the nationally syndicated columns, the mass circulation magazines that emphasize 'inside' news of people, industry and government-inspired questionnaires and polls that probe areas of life considered private not long ago, credit bureaus and private detective organizations, wiretappers and security personnel reports—all these institutions, inventions, and developments have been employed in an assault on the walls raised to shield citizens from the public gaze."

And now we have this extraordinary picture of C.B.S. putting on a show to describe the doings of the urban creature generally referred to as the "Call Girl." Edward R. Murrow, who reads broadcasts for Columbia, was the narrator, which in radio and television parlance usually means that the script was prepared in the word factory of this network by a team of often anonymous and sometimes accredited researchers and writers.

The sum and substance of the broadcast was that vice is a business, well-organized, efficiently managed and designed to get business for companies which employ ladies of the night for the purpose. As show business this broadcast may have had some value, just as a strip-tease has curate presentation of data. I doubt whether much stated on that broadcast could be established in a court of law.

"Call Girls" are women, ranging from the age of perhaps 17 to 40 or so, who make themselves available to meandering men for a consideration, ranging from $50 a visit upwards to a diamond or a mink.

Some "Call Girls" are prostitutes; some are conversationalists who keep an old man from falling asleep over his soup. Some of them end their days in poverty; some marry into the European nobility or men of wealth in this country, are received in Cafe Society and have their pictures printed in newspapers and magazines. In a word, some of them, having found a way to security, turn up their noses on their own past and at those who pursue the same course.

That the business is immoral is obvious, but our society has tended in the direction of looseness since the 1920's and has not improved during the current Era of Abundance. The Income Tax which forces businessmen to pad their expense accounts if they are to be saved from the tax collector encourages excesses of all kinds, particularly eating, drinking, and hilarious parties after conventions and meetings.

The psychologists and sociologists may philosophize all they want to about why an educated, well-reared girl will enter upon such a profession but if they did not live in ivory towers, if they associated with human beings instead of statistics, they would discover that in a materialistic period, when morals and manners are loose, diamonds and mink coats become unduly attractive and as long as no religious scruples impede the desire to get something in the easiest way, there will be some who will get it that way. How much difference there is between a "Call Girl" and a woman who has four or five husbands in rotation, I do not know.

In a word, the "Call Girl" is a product of lack of religion, lack of respect, lack of decorum which appear early in life in this country, where a child will answer when a parent objects, let us say, to a costume of blue jeans and dirty white socks, "I must live my own life."

"Call Girls" are the feminine counterpart of the money bootlegger, the fellow who becomes a millionaire by tax evasion and tax avoidance, the banker and manufacturer who sells the assets of his country to its enemy, the politician who plays footsie with American Communists, the labor leader who organizes a strike which further accelerates the inflation and thereby robs the worker of his wages.

It is a period of moral degeneration and the "Call Girl" is a characteristic of the age. A proper news account would provide names, dates and places. Great reporters never claim immunity from responsibility for the truth.

Try and Stop Me

FROM THE NOTEBOOK of Rolfe Peterson, oracle of Salt Lake City:

"When you think you're going down for the third time—just remember: you may have counted wrong."

"Build a better mousetrap and maybe the only result will be that you'll catch a higher type of mice."

"If you're waked up in the morning feeling groggy and listless, just remember you're ahead of the game if you wake up at all!"

A tramp knocked warily on the door of a moderately large residence, and bowed meekly when a powerful lady answered the summons. "Sure and what does a miserable runt like you be comin' round to bother me about?" she demanded with an obvious Harvard accent. "If you'd be so kind," said the tramp humbly, exhibiting a small object in the palm of his hand, "I'd like to get a coat sewed on to this button."

2 Counties OKd For School Issues

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Boards of education in Fairfield and Washington counties have been given permission to submit bond issues to voters at the May primary.

The State Board of Tax Appeals approved Lancaster City School District's application to submit a $1,000,000 bond issue for school site acquisition and construction and modernization of school buildings.

Also approved was Matamoras Local School District's request to place a $105,000 bond issue for a new elementary school and remodeling of high school facilities before voters in Washington County.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The memory of Stalin is getting a favorable revival in the Soviet Union.

Three years ago at the Communist party's congress Nikita S. Khrushchev denounced the old dictator as a tyrant and murderer.

At the 21st party congress Tuesday Khrushchev reversed himself and paid tribute to Stalin for having made possible Soviet progress from a backward state to a great power.

Why? What's happened in the three years to justify the switch?

It was expedient for Khrushchev to do what he did in 1956. Then he wanted to replace the scowling Stalin-image of the Soviet Union.

Medical Mirror

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Q. "Please discuss chronic mastitis. Can it lead to something else?"—M.M.

A. "Mastitis" means inflammation of breast tissue. Chronic indicates that the condition has been present for quite some time. Mild breast inflammation, which shows up as a tender spot or lump is often due to repeated slight injury as might be produced by a tight bra. In chronic cystic mastitis there are breast lumps but not much inflammation. The lumps may be of almost any size and may or may not be tender. A fair percentage of breast cancers seem to start in the changes of chronic cystic mastitis. It is very important that any unusual breast conditions be brought to the attention of your doctor. Early discovery and prompt medical advice is a must in breast disorders. Knowing this, many women examine their breasts every month or so, just to make sure. For free booklets showing how self-examinations are made write to The American Cancer Society, Louisville, Ky.

A. You have every right to be confused because there is no simple explanation. Rich diets increase blood fats in some people which, in turn, is thought to be bad for blood vessels, including the coronary vessels that feed the heart muscle. However, there is no absolute proof that this alone causes coronary attacks. Higher than usual blood fats may be just one of many factors. There seems to be some individual or personal susceptibility to coronary disease. This proneness is probably influenced by many things such as heredity, diet, sex hormones, physical exercise (or lack of it), mental stress, and other life situations. What can we do to combat heart disease? As a start we might develop healthier habits and try to live more moderately. However, caution shouldn't be carried to the point of stripping away all incentive or push. Few would suggest that we exist in a continuous state of boredom just so we can live long enough to develop something besides heart trouble.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

U.S. Treasury's Debt Refund Move Awaited

Wall Street Doubts Federal Agency To Offer Long-Term Bonds

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Thursday the U. S. Treasury is expected to announce its plans for refunding 15 billion dollars of the federal debt. Today the odds in Wall Street are that this time it won't offer a long-term bond.

Reasons the Treasury runs into trouble of late whenever it tries to lengthen the maturity dates of the growing public debt are many.

They range from the Treasury deficit itself to the boom in housing, from the widespread inflationary psychology to the investor's firm belief that interest rates are due to rise still further as the Federal Reserve Board fights inflation.

Recently the Treasury sold 700 million dollars of 21-year bonds priced to yield a trifle over 4 per cent. The issue was heavily oversubscribed, true. But the prices of outstanding long term U. S. securities quickly slid still lower. Now the new bonds also can be bought below par value.

Bond dealers point out that while a 4 per cent interest hadn't been seen for a long time on government bonds, the big financial institutions, pension funds and the like which have the most monies to invest can buy home mortgages guaranteed by the government at still higher yields.

So the urge is to sell the government securities they already have and buy more mortgages. Such sales depress bond prices—both government and corporate. With home building at or near a peak, the supply of mortgages is going up.

The Treasury's own deficit isn't helping any either. Investors know there will be more government securities coming to market—meaning a bigger available supply, and thus a price depressant.

The public—especially stock traders—accept the view the deficit is a harbinger of further inflation. Thus, they don't want fixed income bonds but prefer the more volatile stocks.

The result of the decline in bond prices and the rise in stock prices is that now an investor actually can get a larger yield on his money by buying bonds than by buying stocks. This is because his money can buy more fixed-income bonds at their depressed prices but can buy fewer stocks now than formerly while their interest payments are likely to be unchanged.

Agronomy Day Program Due Here Thursday

Pickaway County farmers are reminded of the county-wide agronomy day and hay and silage show. This event will be held at the Fairgrounds Coliseum, Thursday. The show starts at 10 a. m. All county farmers are invited to enter samples of their hay and silage in this event.

There will be competition in grass and corn silage, alfalfa, clover and mixed hay.

The afternoon portion of the program will include discussions of many agronomy practices, such as soil testing, interpreting results, fertilizer placement, pasture maintenance and crop variety recommendations.

The Pickaway County Agronomy Committee also has developed a new program entitled the Pickaway County Century Corn Club.

All Pickaway County farmers are invited to enroll in this club. The objective will be to recognize and encourage outstanding performances in corn growing. By performance, it is meant that combination of practices adjusted and applied to the optimum degree for the needs of the growers' situations.

Each entry must have a field of at least five acres, and must be enrolled by June 15. A record of the practices on this plot must be kept, and before harvest members of the Agronomy Committee will conduct yield checks.

Other advisors of this 4-H club are Sterling Poling and Robert Patrick.

4-H CLUB NEWS

The Western Cloverleaf 4-H Riding Club will hold its first meeting at 7:30 p. m. February 2 at the Fairgrounds in Circleville.

Canadian Says U.S. Policy Is 'Skinflint'

CLEVELAND (AP)—A leading Canadian economist today accused the United States of turning skinflint in its effort to collect tolls on the St. Lawrence Seaway when it is ready for navigation in April.

In a speech at a seaway symposium at John Carroll University, Stuart Armour, economic adviser for the Steel Co. of Canada, Ltd., said:

"It alarms and hurts us in Canada to contemplate your abandonment of a 60-year-old national policy of toll-free inland waterways in order to recover $157 per American through seaway tolls."

"You who have uplifted the hearts of mankind with the Marshall Plan and the Truman Doctrine, to say nothing of the Carnegie, Ford, Rockefeller and other foundations, now seem to stand in some danger of appearing as a sort of road-show Shylock to your closest neighbor and best customer."

Armour said Canada has spent 800 million dollars on the seaway compared with 275 million for the United States.

"Only when you realize that our expenditure of $45 per head of population compares with an expenditure of $157 per head of your population do the figures tell their whole story in all its starkness," he said.

"We shall puzzle," Armour added, "over the reasons why a country we have long looked up to as good as well as great should have suddenly turned skinflint."

at 11:30 a. m. Serving will continue through 12:30 p. m.

Business meetings will start at 12:45 p. m. Financial reports, election of directors for both organizations, election of delegates and alternates to the Ohio Farm Bureau membership meetings and other business is on the agenda.

Dr. Everett Rogers, economist at Ohio State University, will be the featured speaker. Special music including an instrumental quartet in charge of Miss Mary Jo Gaskella of Walnut Twp. School, and vocal numbers by Ivan Cooper and son will be presented.

DR. ROGERS currently is assistant professor of Rural Sociology at OSU. He completed graduate training at Michigan State University and the University of Maryland and received his Ph.D. from Iowa State College.

Rogers was born in 1931 at Carroll, Iowa, and grew up on an Iowa corn-hog farm. After receiving his BS degree from Iowa State in 1952, he completed sociological research work for the Air Force Research and Development Command for two years as a 1-Lt. He was engaged in teaching and research at Iowa State for three years before joining the staff of The Ohio State University in March, 1957.

In addition to his teaching duties at OSU, Rogers directs research on the communication and adoption of new farm and home-making practices for the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, along with other research projects.

Rogers has a major interest in the social changes affecting rural life in America. His major concern is analyzing the impact of urbanization, industrialization, transportation, population shifts and improved communication upon rural people.

He is the author of a rural sociology textbook, "Social Change in Rural Society," which will be published next year.

Door prizes will be awarded to 1959 paid-up Farm Bureau members. Members are reminded to get tickets when registering.

Girl with Patched Heart Has Date In White House

LA PORTE, Ind. (AP)—A golden-haired little girl with a patched up heart will celebrate the "best" day of her life next Tuesday at the White House.

That's the day Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower will crown six-year-old Debbie Quinn as America's Valentine Girl for 1959.

The American Heart Assn. chose Debbie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Quinn of La Porte, as a symbol of hope for the 1959 heart fund campaign.

Debbie was born with four heart defects. She had a quarter-size hole between the ventricles of her heart; her pulmonary artery was too narrow; her great artery was displaced, and the right side of her heart was enlarged.

But Dr. C. Walton Lillehei of the University of Minnesota Heart Hospital repaired Debbie's heart in a 7½ hour operation that would have been impossible 10 years ago. The heart lung pump, which did the work of her heart and lungs during surgery, is a post World War II development.

Educational TV Bogs in Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—For the fifth time, the Greater Toledo Educational Television Foundation today missed a target date to begin operation.

Murray Stahl, general manager of the ultra-high-frequency station, said he hopes to have programs on Channel 30 within three months. He has applied for another 90-day extension of a construction permit from the Federal Communications Commission which had granted four previous extensions.

The foundation has been seeking, with little success, approximately $180,000 to get the station on the air and operate it through 1959.

Bond dealers point out that while 4 per cent interest hadn't been seen for a long time on government bonds, the big financial institutions, pension funds and the like which have the most monies to invest can buy home mortgages guaranteed by the government at still higher yields.

So the urge is to sell the government securities they already have and buy more mortgages. Such sales depress bond prices—both government and corporate. With home building at or near a peak, the supply of mortgages is going up.

The Treasury's own deficit isn't helping any either. Investors know there will be more government securities coming to market—meaning a bigger available supply, and thus a price depressant.

The public — especially stock traders — accept the view the deficit is a harbinger of further inflation. Thus, they don't want fixed income bonds but prefer the more volatile stocks.

The result of the decline in bond prices and the rise in stock prices is that now an investor actually can get a larger yield on his money by buying bonds than by buying stocks. This is because his money can buy more fixed-income bonds at their depressed prices but can buy fewer stocks now than formerly while their interest payments are likely to be unchanged.

Agronomy Day Program Due Here Thursday

Pickaway County farmers are reminded of the county-wide agronomy day and hay and silage show. This event will be held at the Fairgrounds Coliseum, Thursday. The show starts at 10 a. m. All county farmers are invited to enter samples of their hay and silage in this event.

There will be competition in grass and corn silage, alfalfa, clover and mixed hay.

The afternoon portion of the program will include discussions of many agronomy practices, such as soil testing, interpreting results, fertilizer placement, pasture maintenance and crop variety recommendations.

The Pickaway County Agronomy Committee also has developed a new program entitled the Pickaway County Century Corn Club.

All Pickaway County farmers are invited to enroll in this club. The objective will be to recognize and encourage outstanding performance in corn growing. By performance, it is meant that combination of practices adjusted and applied to the optimum degree for the needs of the growers' situations.

Each entry must have a field of at least five acres, and must be enrolled by June 15. A record of the practices on this plot must be kept, and before harvest members of the Agronomy Committee will conduct yield checks.

Canadian Says U.S. Policy Is 'Skinflint'

CLEVELAND (AP)—A leading Canadian economist today accused the United States of turning skinflint in its effort to collect tolls on the St. Lawrence Seaway when it is ready for navigation in April.

In a speech at a seaway symposium at John Carroll University, Stuart Armour, economic adviser for the Steel Co. of Canada, Ltd., said:

"It alarms and hurts us in Canada to contemplate your abandonment of a 60-year-old national policy (of toll-free inland waterways) in order to recover $1.57 per American through seaway tolls."

"You who have uplifted the hearts of mankind with the Marshall Plan and the Truman Doctrine, to say nothing of the Carnegie, Ford, Rockefeller and other foundations, now seem to stand in some danger of appearing as a sort of road-show Shylock to your closest neighbor and best customer."

Armour said Canada has spent 800 million dollars on the seaway compared with 275 million for the United States.

"Only when you realize that our expenditure of $45 per head of population compares with an expenditure of $1.57 per head of your population do the figures tell their whole story in all its starkness," he said.

"We shall puzzle," Armour added, "over the reasons why a country we have long looked up to as good as well as great should have suddenly turned skinflint."

DR. ROGERS currently is assistant professor of Rural Sociology at OSU. He completed graduate training at Michigan State University and the University of Maryland and received his Ph.D. from Iowa State College.

Rogers was born in 1931 at Carroll, Iowa, and grew up on an Iowa corn-hog farm. After receiving his BS degree from Iowa State in 1952, he completed sociological research work for the Air Force Research and Development Command for two years as a 1-LT. He was engaged in teaching and research at Iowa State for three years before joining the staff of The Ohio State University in March, 1957.

In addition to his teaching duties at OSU, Rogers directs research on the communication and adoption of new farm and home-making practices for the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, along with other research projects.

Rogers has a major interest in the social changes affecting rural life in America. His major concern is analyzing the impact of urbanization, industrialization, transportation, population shifts and improved communication upon rural people.

He is the author of a rural sociology textbook, "Social Change in Rural Society," which will be published next year.

Door prizes will be awarded to 1959 paid-up Farm Bureau members. Members are reminded to get tickets when registering.

Girl with Patched Heart Has Date In White House

LA PORTE, Ind. (AP)—A golden-haired little girl with a patched up heart will celebrate the "best" day of her life next Tuesday at the White House.

That's the day Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower will crown six-year-old Debbie Quinn as America's Valentine Girl for 1959.

The American Heart Assn. chose Debbie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Quinn of La Porte, as a symbol of hope for the 1959 heart fund campaign.

Debbie was born with four heart defects. She had a quarter-size hole between the ventricles of her heart; her pulmonary artery was too narrow; her great artery was displaced, and the right side of her heart was enlarged.

But Dr. C. Walton Lillehei of the University of Minnesota Heart Hospital repaired Debbie's heart in a 7½ hour operation that would have been impossible 10 years ago. The heart lung pump, which did the work of her heart and lungs during surgery, is a post World War II development.

Educational TV Bogs in Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—For the fifth time, the Greater Toledo Educational Television Foundation today missed a target date to begin operation.

Murray Stahl, general manager of the ultra-high-frequency station, said he hopes to have programs on Channel 30 within three months. He has applied for another 90-day extension of a construction permit from the Federal Communications Commission which had granted four previous extensions.

The foundation has been seeking, with little success, approximately $180,000 to get the station on the air and operate it through 1959.

Phillies Believe Kid To Solve Problem

NEW YORK (AP) —The Philadelphia Phillies believe they finally have come up with what they regard their biggest single need — a solid, steady, day-by-day second baseman. He is George (Sparky) Anderson, a rookie acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Phillies must think a lot of this 24-year-old native of Chatsworth, Calif. They gave up a proven major league outfielder in Rip Repulski for him, along with pitching hopefuls Gene Snyder and Jim Golden.

Although he never has batted higher than .298, baseball men who've watched Anderson in the minors almost unanimously feel he has everything else needed to play in the big leagues. He is regarded as a fine fielder with a reputation of being a smart player who last season stole 20 bases.

He batted only .269 for Montreal in 1958 but he not only led the International League second basemen in fielding but his .988 percentage was the highest compiled in all the minors.

"He's a definite Stanky-type guy," says Roy Hamer, who recently quit his general manager-ship post at Philadelphia to become assistant to GM George Weiss of the New York Yankees. "I'm convinced Anderson was the best available second baseman in the minors who is ready for the majors."

Phillies Manager Eddie Sawyer, in an effort to add punch to the club, will give a thorough trial to a couple of young outfielders who led their respective leagues in one batting category or another.

The most conspicuous slugger in the Phillies' farm system last year was Bart Dupon, who paced Bakersfield to the second-half title in the California League. Dupon set a pair of records in winning the home run crown with 40 and runs batted in title with 136.

A youngster with a bit more experience is John Easton, who spent the 1958 season with Williamsport, Pa. Easton's .321 was good enough to lead the pitching-dominated Eastern League. He rapped 32 doubles, 10 triples, 13 home runs, drove in 69 runs and paced the circuit with 245 total bases in only 118 games.

Don Landrith, a fine defensive flycatcher, is back for a second trial. His .251 mark at Miami, however, does not speak well for his offensive prowess.

Frank Herrera, who failed to stick last year as a first baseman is back but this time for a shot at third. The husky Cuban walked 20 home runs and drove in 66 runs on a .282.

Sawyer will have eight rookie pitchers. The best may be curveballer Jim Owens, who won his only start after spending most of the year in service. The biggest winner of 1958 was Ed Keegan, who won 13, lost nine and posted a 2.97 earned run average at Williamsport. Bob Conley, another right-hander, was 12-11 at Miami with a 2.94 ERA and four shutouts. He may be ready. Another Miami, Dallas Green, was 7-10.

Trouble Looms For Promoter Of Title Bout

Patterson-Johansson Matchmaker May Yet See Roof Cave In

NEW YORK (AP) — The promoter of the off-again, on-again Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight championship bout went ahead with his plans today but he was in the position of a fellow wondering when the roof would cave in.

Bill Rosensohn, the promoter, said bravely he saw no obstacles in the way of the fight and that contracts should be signed by Thursday.

But while he stood in the center of the stage, there were various side men milling around in the wings:

1. Eddie Machen, a heavyweight stopped by Johansson not long ago is seeking a federal court order to keep Ingemar, the European champion from fighting Patterson before he gets a rematch.

2. London promoter Harry Levene says he has a title fight between Patterson and Brian London of England all wrapped up, and said he received a cable from Patterson's manager imploring him to have patience.

3. London, "I am overjoyed at this big chance," he said.

4. Cus D'Amato, Patterson manager, who has been holding all the cards is annoyed that Levene would release his private correspondence.

5. Johansson, the party of the second part, says he made no return match agreements with Machen, and furthermore, Eddie can get at the end of the line if he wants another fight.

Rosensohn professes to be aloof from such goings on.

"The best legal opinion I have been able to get tells me it will be next to impossible for Machen to enjoin Johansson from fighting," he said. "It will not interfere, slow, deter or in any way affect my plans."

THE BULLDOGS connected on 31 of 62 field goal attempts for 50 per cent. From the charity line, Centralia had its best night, notching 27 of 32 offerings for 84 per cent.

Southeastern chipped in 19 of 63 attempts from the floor for 30 per cent. The foul line found the Southeastern Panthers chalking up 14 of 32 tries for 43 per cent.

Chuck Weaver nabbed 17 rebounds and Elwood King grabbed 16. Carrieco and Brown led the Panthers scoring with 12 points each. King followed Harrison in the Centralia scoring with 15 markers.

Centralia is now 8-7 on the year and 3-4 in Ross County League play. Southeastern holds a 2-12 slate.

Centralia — Mettler 5-0-10; McNeal 2-4-8; Kutachbach 6-0-12; Austin 3-6-12; Harrison 9-2-25; Ault 0-2-2; Weaver 2-1-3; Montgomery 5-0-0-0; King 4-7-15; Haynes 0-0-0; Skaggs 1-0-2; Totals 33-27-91.

Ashville Wins Over Monroe In Overtime

Ashville had a scare last night at Monroe as the Indians forced the Broncos into an overtime before they were subdued, 70-67.

A total of 49 fouls were called during the rough contest which saw elbows flying every which way. Both teams lost three men via the personal route.

Ashville lost Gary Gaines, Bob Hoover and Dick Hollenback. Monroe lost Hillard Bradley, Max Sheets and Steve Fullen.

Monroe started out "like a house afire", leading at the end of the first quarter, 20-12. Ashville rallied in the second canto to go ahead at halftime, 34-32.

THE BRONCOS continued to increase its third quarter lead to 48-41. Monroe came on strong in the final period to tie it up at the end of regulation time, 62-62.

Monroe's Bigam captured game scoring honors with 28 points. Ashville's Hoover trailed with 26 markers. Bigam tallied on drives and jump shots. Hoover garnered most of his points from underneath the bucket.

The Broncos hit 16 of 33 foul shot attempts for 51 per cent. Monroe connected on 21 of 35 charity offerings for a fine 60 per cent.

Ashville used a man-to-man defense against Monroe's 1-2-2, which was used to stop Hoover and Hollenback. By virtue of last night's league win, Ashville moved into the league's third spot, all alone, with a 5-2 record.

Overall the Broncos stand, 7-8. Monroe dropped to seventh in the league with a 3-5 slate. The Indians claim a 5-9 record for the season. Ashville won the reserve encounter, 39-28.

Ashville — Franks 2-5-9; Gaines 7-3-17; McNeal 4-0-8; Hoover 9-8-26; Hollenback 3-0-6; Gregg 2-0-4; Totals 27-16-70.

Trouble Looms For Promoter Of Title Bout

Patterson-Johansson Matchmaker May Yet See Roof Cave In

NEW YORK (AP)—The promoter of the off-again, on-again Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight championship bout went ahead with his plans today but he was in the position of a fellow wondering when the roof would cave in.

Bill Rosensohn, the promoter, said bravely he saw no obstacles in the way of the fight and that contracts should be signed by Thursday.

But while he stood in the center of the stage, there were various side men milling around in the wings:

1. Eddie Machen, a heavyweight stopped by Johansson not long ago is seeking a federal court order to keep Ingemar, the European champion from fighting Patterson before he gets a rematch.

2. London promoter Harry Levene says he has a title fight between Patterson and Brian London of England all wrapped up, and said he received a cable from Patterson's manager imploring him to have patience.

3. London, "I am overjoyed at this big chance," he said.

4. Cus D'Amato, Patterson manager, who has been holding all the cards is annoyed that Levene would release his private correspondence.

5. Johansson, the party of the second part, says he made no return match agreements with Machen, and furthermore, Eddie can get at the end of the line if he wants another fight.

Rosensohn professes to be aloof from such goings on.

"The best legal opinion I have been able to get tells me it will be next to impossible for Machen to enjoin Johansson from fighting," he said. "It will not interfere, slow, deter or in any way affect my plans."

Giardello, Jones Due on TV Bout

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Middleweights Joey Giardello and Ralph (Tiger) Jones meet in a 10-round boxing match at Freedom Hall tonight.

The bout will be televised nationally (ABC) but will be blacked out locally.

Giardello, of Brooklyn, defeated Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., in 1954 and 1957.

Giardello has won 67, Lost 15 and drawn 5. He has scored 28 knockouts. Jones has 12 knockouts and a 46-24-4 record.

Fight time is 10 p.m. (EST).

Southeastern even aided Centralia's cause as team member, Skaggs, notched a two-pointer for the Bulldogs. Harrison's 25 points came on nine of 14 field goal attempts for 64 per cent, plus seven of seven free throws.

A surprising Amanda aggregation continued to amaze area fans last night by trouncing host Pickaway, 75-57.

The Pirates got off to a good lead as Harry Lee, who finished the night with 27 markers, notched three quick buckets to give Pickaway a 15-8 lead.

Behind the topnotching scoring of Bill Brown and Roger Gussett, the Aces increased their lead to 58-41 at the third quarter mark. Brown captured Amanda scoring honors with 24 points followed by Gussett with 21.

U.S. Davis Cuppers Heading for Home

SYDNEY (AP)—Captain Perry Jones made a farewell speech and recited a poem to a small assembly at Overseas Airport today before the United States Davis Cup team departed for home.

"God bless all Australians. You all have been wonderful to us," said the 70-year-old Los Angeles tennis executive.

Then he recited a poem which he composed and which he had given on other occasions during the Australian visit. The poem dealt with the parting of friends.

The team will stay at Honolulu five days before continuing to Los Angeles.

You Get Dizzy Just Listening To Old Casey

NEW YORK (AP)—High above the swank shops of Fifth Avenue, the New York Yankees maintain a tidy office. You get dizzy when you look down from the 29th floor. When Casey Stengel is there you get dizzy without looking out the window.

Casey was there Tuesday talking about baseball salaries, players with "bad watches" who can't tell the time at midnight, men who don't run out fly balls and others who get tired running 90 feet.

He lined up with the front office in its salary squabble with the players and warned some of his men to improve their training habits—or else.

"I think some of them don't like it here," he said. "One of these days a moving van will back up. One or two will get hit right on the butt."

There was more of the same on many subjects. Before the last dazed listener broke away, Casey touched on these matters:

Letting ball players sleep in the morning after a night game: "You don't lose games resting."

Curfew: "There has to be a certain time. The night isn't all yours."

Trades: "If you can make deals to get (Jackie) Jensen and (Gus) Triandos, get 'em. I'd like 'em back. The commissioner probably will call up and tell me I'm tampering, but two or three other managers come in here and talk about my players."

Jay Flyweight Wins Ring Laurels

NEW YORK (AP)—Sadao Yaota, the Japanese flyweight who ended Champion Pascual Perez' 48-fight streak in a non-title bout, has been named "fighter of the month" by Ring Magazine.

Yaota, forced to weight a half pound over the 112-pound class limit, was moved up from fifth to first among the challengers to the champion from Argentina. It was the first defeat in Perez' long career.

Ingemar Johansson of Sweden, the European heavyweight champ, remained the No. 1 contender to World Champion Floyd Patterson, with whom he is to sign for a title match in June. Johansson was idle throughout the month, as was the champ.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Man Needs Love, Not Pity

DEAR ABBY: They say "History repeats itself" and I know it is true because my mother says she married my father because she felt sorry for him and now the same thing is happening to me. I accepted an engagement ring from a boy because I felt sorry for him. The only reason I started going with him in the first place was because I felt sorry for him and never had the nerve to break off with him. I am 21 and he is 22 and I wish I knew how to tell him I really don't love him without hurting his feelings. Please help me.

SORRY FOR HIM
DEAR SORRY: If you marry a man because you "feel sorry for him"—you will be feeling sorrier for yourself in a few years. The kindest thing you can do for him is to return his ring NOW and let him find a girl who will give him love not pity.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is engaged to marry a brilliant young man who is studying political law. He was president of his fraternity, president of his class and has been awarded a Student Senate Key for outstanding service to his college. He was recently honored by the Masonic Order for potential future leadership, and now he has made Law Review. With all these accomplishments he has the most disgusting table manners I have ever seen. He simply eats like a pig! My daughter is aware of this, but gets angry when I mention it. How she can marry him knowing she must sit across the table from him for three meals a day for life is beyond me. Should I buy him a book on table manners, or is there a more tactful way?

FLABBERGASTED
DEAR FLABBERGASTED: As his future mother-in-law, you'd be wise to reserve your criticism. Quit needing your daughter about it and let her correct him in her own way in her own time.

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law and I are expecting about the same time. The problem is I told her if I had a boy I was naming him JEFFREY and if I had a girl I'd call her JILL. She says those are the names she likes, and I know that she never would have thought of them if I hadn't mentioned them. I named my first born SANDRA and when she had

Radcliff.

Smith was especially active in establishing the district, spending many hours in setting up its operation.

The district's objectives were to establish flood control devices, provide an adequate water supply, provide waste disposal facilities and other benefits under the Ohio Conservancy Acts.

After the close of World War II, the Board of Directors concluded that it would issue the first levy of three-fourths of a mill on the real property of the district.

The levy was made, of which this county paid approximately $15,000 in assessments. Engineers were hired. Violent opposition to the engineer's plan stemmed primarily from northern counties in the district.

The district weathered many court actions that involved the Court of Appeals and the Ohio Supreme Court. The official plan was finally approved on July 9, 1952.

THE OFFICIAL plan called for the following reservoirs and their locations: Bucyrus, over the Sandusky River in Crawford County; Tiffin, over Sandusky River in Seneca and Wyandot counties; Delaware, over Olentangy and Whetstone Rivers in Marion, Morrow and Delaware counties; Mill Creek, over Mill Creek in Union and Delaware counties;

Big Darby, over Little and Big Darby Creeks in Madison and Franklin counties; Deercreek over Deercreek in Fayette and Pickaway counties; Paint Creek, over Paint Creek in Ross and Adams counties; Rocky Fork, over Rocky Fork Creek in Highland county. The plan called for river levees bordering the Scioto River in Franklin and all counties south.

Local protection projects were planned for Fremont, Columbus and Chillicothe, all of which suffered considerable loss in the recent flood.

On Aug. 5, 1952 the board of directors were forced to levy another three tenths of a mill assessment upon district property owners. This time, Pickaway County contributed $15,149.90 toward the district.

In the early part of 1953, there commenced a series of law suits and various types of litigation contesting the legality of the district levying a second 0.3 of a mill assessment.

Many county judges issued restraining orders against their auditors from placing conservancy district levies on the books and in other instances restraining treasurers from collecting the same. Other counties refused to pay after collecting the assessment.

The issue was finally resolved by the Ohio Supreme Court allowing the second assessment and a total of $360,847.50 was paid into the district treasury.

THE DEERCREEK Reservoir planned for Pickaway County would have been of great advantage, especially for the Williamsport, area, according to Judge William Radcliff.

Dunlap and Radcliff said the Williamsport water problem would have been alleviated, sanitation problems would have been taken care of, there would be flood control and recreation facilities provided for fishermen, swimmers and boaters.

It is indeed ironic to note that one day prior to the flood, Dunlap said, "I can't understand why Franklin County would be against the conservancy district."

"The reservoir planned over Mill Creek would reduce to a minimum, the danger of flooding to Columbus." The next day Mill Creek caused the flooding of the Columbus west side bottoms and the many thousands of dollars worth of damage.

Another "bone of contention" over the district was brought out recently. Temporary secretary Allen I. Pretzman, was also district legal counsel.

Of the $55,356.79 spent since the last assessment in 1953, $25,943.57 was paid out in legal fees to Pretzman. This fact was pointed out by several opponents of the district's continuance.

Dunlap and Judge Radcliff both stated they believe Pretzman is dedicated to the conservancy district and firmly feel he has earned his money. This opinion was not held by all members of the district.

This problem was halted recently upon the resignation of Pretzman as temporary secretary. He was with the district since its formation.

Dunlap stated he felt that the alternative to the dissolution was in the Small Watershed Act passed by the 83rd Congress and amended by the 84th.

THE LAW authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to give technical and financial aid to local organizations in planning and carrying out watershed projects.

The projects can be for flood prevention, agricultural phases of water management and other purposes such as municipal and industrial water supplies.

The nearest successful watershed project to this area, is in Fairfield County where, according to Donald Archer, local U. S. Department of Soil Conservation Service manager, it has been of great advantage to the surrounding countryside.

Judge Gessaman recently expressed his opinion why he voted

Research Group in Texas Tackles Dizzying Variety

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Here you are 150 miles from the sea.

But here part of tomorrow's new deep-diving submarines is being born.

Here there is rarely any snow. But this is the birthplace of electronic detectors warning of hidden crevasses lurking in snow and ice.

Here there are no rocket-launching pads. But scientists are learning how to prevent liquid fuels from sloshing around in rocket engines and wobbling them off course.

"Here" is the Southwest Research Institute, one of the nation's half dozen not-for-profit foundations doing research for government and industry, solving problems, seeking new products or close-knit organization of chemists, physicists, mathematicians, biologists, geologists, engineers, and scientists of other disciplines. They tackle a dizzying variety of projects.

Submarines can dive about 600 feet before water pressure threatens to crash their hulls. Because submarines want to go deeper, SRI scientists are designing hulls which could go thousands of feet farther. Scale models are tested

Seaway Due To Bring Cut By Railroads

CLEVELAND (AP)—The railroad industry is getting ready to cut freight rates in a battle against the St. Lawrence Seaway. A new rate package should be ready by summer, says a New York Central executive.

"The railroad industry does not plan to take the seaway lying down," Arthur S. Baylis, freight rates and services vice president of the New York Central System, declared.

"If we can help in its demise, we'll do it," he told a seaway symposium at John Carroll University Tuesday.

A sample of the rate cuts Baylis said are being considered: A cut of 10 per cent on unboxed automobiles bound for Liverpool, a cut of 40 to 50 per cent on overseas grain shipments, 24 per cent on ammonium nitrate and 20 per cent on lard.

These are tentative, he stressed, since final details of seaway operations and rates are now known.

"By summer we will have a new rate package that will build the railroads up and protect our investment," Baylis said.

Other adjustments are being considered, he said, which might involve "long-haul rates, seasonal rates, volume or contract rates or point-to-point rates."

Baylis was one of seven panelists at a discussion of "The Seaway and Your Business" at the symposium, which was sponsored by the university and the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce.

Martin W. Oettershagen, deputy director of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., declined comment on Baylis' statement. He said there will be a comment when the railroad industry's threat "becomes a fact."

for the conservancy's dissolution and one which was expressed by most members voting for its abolition.

He said, "I voted against it because it was spending money for legal fees and not doing anything to put the official plan of Scioto River flood control into operation."

Other judges felt the district hadn't accomplished enough to warrant its existence. The opinions are probably true, but only because opponents kept it in constant litigation preventing its constructive operation, both Dunlap and Radcliff feel.

Now that the Scioto and other central Ohio streams have shown their power of destruction, maybe the 12 opposing judges will have a change of "heart."

Crevasse bridges over and hidden by snow have long been a deadly trap for explorers, and for military men and machines in the arctic and antarctic.

SRI scientists developed an idea, tested it in Greenland. Their crevasse detector has probes or hands which reach out far ahead of a tractor or sled, and send back electrical signals to warn of a cavity beneath the snow surface. The detector is credited with preventing accidents to scientists who explored Antarctica during the International Geophysical Year.

Negro Boy To Become House Page

CHICAGO (AP)—A Chicago boy left for Washington Tuesday night to become the only Negro page boy in the U.S. House of Representatives.

The youth, James A. Johnson Jr., 14, was appointed a page under the sponsorship of Rep. Barratt O'Hara, a Chicago Democrat. O'Hara, who said there was a slight mixup over approval of the boy's appointment by the House Patronage Committee, said he had been assured by Southern congressmen they would not oppose it.

"I inquired more than a year ago, when the boy's name first was mentioned to me, if there ever had been Negro pages before in the house," O'Hara said. "I did not want to push the boy into an integration battle which might prove embarrassing."

"I was assured that there had been Negro pages before. Now they contend the House never had one, but my grandson, Barratt III, told me that when he was a page there were Negro pages."

O'Hara, in Chicago to address his grandson's high school commencement exercises, said confusion arose when members of the House Patronage Committee thought O'Hara and Rep. Thomas J. O'Brien, also a Chicago Democrat, were appointing the same boy, Martin J. Oberman.

O'Hara, 76 and serving his fifth term in the House, said the committee apparently was not aware he had submitted a separate nomination, which was approved.

Veteran Capitol employees said they did not recall any Negro ever having served there as a page. There is one Negro page at the Supreme Court.

Square Dance Planned

The Laureville Athletic Club in conjunction with Laureville High School will sponsor a family square dance at 8 p. m. Saturday in the high school gym, according to the Rev. Wayne Fowler, president of the athletic club.

City in East Could Use Good Cowboy

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — New York City's neighboring Westchester County could sure use a few honest-to-gosh cowhands. Five Black Angus steers have been on the loose since Dec. 20, and folks are beginning to get kind of put out because nobody can catch 'em.

They've been roaming over what seems like half the county giving people quite a fright, messing up lawns and chewing up prize shrubbery.

Great posses of police and citizens have been after the critters day after day with cars, airplanes, helicopters, horses, walkie-talkies and tranquilized alfalfa hay.

But the steers are just as far from the corral as they ever were. Every time anybody gets near, they just go high-tailing off for somewhere else. Then frantic phone calls begin coming from people there.

Several times the local cowpokes have gotten pretty close. That's all they got, though, except for frustration and bramble scratches in scrambling away from the stampede.

One police officer had to take to a tree when a roundup was tried a few days ago. Another time a fellow didn't take off in time and wound up with a dislocated shoulder.

Six of the steers got away from the Norda Experimental Farm at the start. One was killed not long afterward. Officers brought out their heavy artillery when he went on a rampage during a corralling attempt.

That's what a lot of folks would like to see done with the rest of them.

Cincinnati 'Cinderella' Trial Mostly Tempest in Teapot

CINCINNATI (AP)—"A tempest in a teapot" — it's a very trite expression but it seems to fit what has become known as the trial of a "Cinderella." The trial should reach its end today.

"Cinderella" is Mrs. Janet Greenroos, a pert and pretty 28-year-old mother of three who played the fairy-tale part on the "Uncle" Al Lewis kiddie television show on Cincinnati station WCPO-TV.

"Cinderella" is charged with disorderly conduct in connection with a disturbance at the station studio last Oct. 28.

She had been fired the day before and claims she only went to the studio to pick up her belongings.

A disorderly conduct charge is usually processed quickly in court. And conviction carries at most a $100 fine and costs.

But this trial has assumed comic opera proportions.

First there was a demand for a jury. Then there was a mistrial. That was last Jan. 19. Two days have now passed in a second trial and it still isn't finished.

The mistrial came when Defense Attorney Harry Abrams sought to question M. C. Watters, general manager of the station, about "personal feelings" between him and "Cinderella" over a long period of time.

Tuesday, attorneys steered completely away from the behind-the-scenes incident subject.

The jurors were taken to the scene of the incident, then they heard a city detective and a private policeman tell their stories. Marion Blandford, the private said he had been instructed to keep Mrs. Greenroos from entering the premises.

He said he told her she could not enter the studio but when she insisted, he took her by the arm twice. Abrams claimed in his opening statements that Blandford twisted the young woman's arm and that she almost fell.

City Detective Bernard Kersker said he was sent to the studio and that he also asked her to leave, but she insisted she was going into the studio. He said they had to carry her to his police car.

Blandford signed the affidavit against "Cinderella" after she was taken to the police station.

John Sweeney, personnel and office manager of the station, testified that Mrs. Greenroos was fired Oct. 27 but he didn't say and he wasn't asked what led to the dismissal.

Flood . . .

Radcliff.
Smith was especially active in establishing the district, spending many hours in setting up its operation.
The district's objectives were to establish flood control devices, provide an adequate water supply, provide waste disposal facilities and other benefits under the Ohio Conservancy Acts.
After the close of World War II, the Board of Directors concluded that it would issue the first levy of three-tenths of a mill on the real property of the district.
The levy was made, of which this county paid approximately $15,000 in assessments. Engineers were hired. Violent opposition to the engineer's plan stemmed primarily from northern counties in the district.
The district weathered many court actions that involved the Court of Appeals and the Ohio Supreme Court. The official plan was finally approved on July 9, 1952.

THE OFFICIAL plan called for the following reservoirs and their locations: Bucyrus, over the Sandusky River in Crawford County; Tiffin, over Sandusky River in Seneca and Wyandot counties; Delaware, over Olentangy and Wheelstone Rivers in Marion, Morrow and Delaware counties; Mill Creek, over Mill Creek in Union and Delaware counties;
Big Darby, over Little and Big Darby Creeks in Madison and Franklin counties; Deer Creek, over Deer Creek in Fayette and Pickaway counties; Paint Creek, over Paint Creek in Franklin and Highland counties; Rocky Fork, over Rocky Fork Creek in Highland county. The plan called for river levees bordering the Scioto River in Franklin and all counties south.
Local protection projects were planned for Fremont, Columbus and Chillicothe, all of which suffered considerable loss in the recent flood.
On Aug. 5, 1952 the board of directors were forced to levy another three tenths of a mill assessment upon district property owners. This time, Pickaway County contributed $15,149.90 toward the district.
In the early part of 1953, there commenced a series of law suits and various types of litigation contesting the legality of the district levying a second 0.3 of a mill assessment.
Many county judges issued restraining orders against their auditors from placing conservancy district levies on the books and in other instances restraining treasurers from collecting the same. Other counties refused to pay after collecting the assessment.
The issue was finally resolved by the Ohio Supreme Court allowing the second assessment and a total of $360,847.50 was paid into the district treasury.

THE DEERCREEK Reservoir planned for Pickaway County would have been of great advantage, especially for the Williamsport area, according to Judge William Radcliff.
Dunlap and Radcliff said the Williamsport water problem would have been alleviated, sanitation problems would have been taken care of, there would be flood control and recreation facilities provided for fishermen, swimmers and boaters.
It is indeed ironic to note that one day prior to the flood, Dunlap said, "I can't understand why Franklin County would be against the conservancy district."
"The reservoir planned over Mill Creek would reduce to a minimum, the danger of flooding to Columbus." The next day Mill Creek caused the flooding of the Columbus west side bottoms and the many thousands of dollars worth of damage.
Another "bone of contention" over the district was brought out recently. Temporary secretary Allen I. Pretzman, was also district legal counsel.
Of the $55,356.79 spent since the last assessment in 1953, $25,943.57 was paid out in legal fees to Pretzman. This fact was pointed out by several opponents of the district's continuance.
Dunlap and Judge Radcliff both stated they believe Pretzman is dedicated to the conservancy district and firmly feel he has earned his money. This opinion was not held by all members of the district.
This problem was halted recently upon the resignation of Pretzman as temporary secretary. He was with the district since its formation.
Dunlap stated he felt that the alternative to the dissolution was in the Small Watershed Act passed by the 83rd Congress and amended by the 84th.
THE LAW authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to give technical and financial aid to local organizations in planning and carrying out watershed projects.
The projects can be for flood prevention, agricultural phases of water management and other purposes such as municipal and industrial water supplies.
The nearest successful watershed project to this area, is in Fairfield County where, according to Donald Archer, local U. S. Department of Soil Conservation Service manager, it has been of great advantage to the surrounding countryside.
Judge Gessaman recently expressed his opinion why he voted

Research Group in Texas Tackles Dizzying Variety

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Here you are 150 miles from the sea.
But here part of tomorrow's new deep-diving submarines is being born.
Here there is rarely any snow. But this is the birthplace of electronic detectors warning of hidden crevasses lurking in snow and ice.
Here there are no rocket-launching pads. But scientists are learning how to prevent liquid fuels from sloshing around in rocket engines and wobbling them off course.
"Here" is the Southwest Research Institute, one of the nation's half dozen not-for-profit foundations doing research for government and industry, solving problems, seeking new products or close-knit organization of chemists, physicists, mathematicians, biologists, geologists, engineers, and scientists of other disciplines. They tackle a dizzying variety of projects.

Submarines can dive about 600 feet before water pressure threatens to crush their hulls. Because submarines want to go deeper, SRI scientists are designing hulls which could go thousands of feet farther. Scale models are tested

Seaway Due To Bring Cut By Railroads

CLEVELAND (AP)—The railroad industry is getting ready to cut freight rates in a battle against the St. Lawrence Seaway. A new rate package should be ready by summer, says a New York Central executive.
"The railroad industry does not plan to take the seaway lying down," Arthur S. Baylis, freight rates and services vice president of the New York Central System, declared.
"If we can help in its demise, we'll do it," he told a seaway symposium at John Carroll University Tuesday.
A sample of the rate cuts Baylis said are being considered: A cut of 10 per cent on unboxed automobiles bound for Liverpool, a cut of 40 to 50 per cent on overseas grain shipments, 24 per cent on ammonium nitrate and 20 per cent on lard.
These are tentative, he stressed, since final details of seaway operations and rates are now known.
"By summer we will have a new rate package that will build the railroads up and protect our investment," Baylis said.
Other adjustments are being considered, he said, which might involve "long-haul rates, seasonal rates, volume or contract rates or point-to-point rates."
Baylis was one of seven panelists at a discussion of "The Seaway and Your Business" at the symposium, which was sponsored by the university and the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce.
Martin W. Oettershagen, deputy director of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., declined comment on Baylis' statement. He said there will be a comment when the railroad industry's threat "becomes a fact."

for the conservancy's dissolution and one which was expressed by most members voting for its abolition.
He said, "I voted against it because it was spending money for legal fees and not doing anything to put the official plan of Scioto River flood control into operation."
Other judges felt the district hadn't accomplished enough to warrant its existence. The opinions are probably true, but only because opponents kept it in constant litigation preventing its constructive operation, both Dunlap and Radcliff feel.
Now that the Scioto and other central Ohio streams have shown their power of destruction, maybe the 12 opposing judges will have a change of "heart."

Crevasses bridged over and hidden by snow have long been a deadly trap for explorers, and for military men and machines in the arctic and antarctic.
SRI scientists developed an idea, tested it in Greenland. Their crevasse detector has probes or hands which reach out far ahead of a tractor or sled, and send back electrical signals to warn of a cavity beneath the snow surface. The detector is credited with preventing accidents to scientists who explored Antarctica during the International Geophysical Year.

Negro Boy To Become House Page

CHICAGO (AP)—A Chicago boy left for Washington Tuesday night to become the only Negro page boy in the U.S. House of Representatives.
The youth, James A. Johnson Jr., 14, was appointed a page under the sponsorship of Rep. Barratt O'Hara, a Chicago Democrat.
O'Hara, who said there was a slight mixup over approval of the boy's appointment by the House Patronage Committee, said he had been assured by Southern congressmen they would not oppose it.
"I inquired more than a year ago, when the boy's name first was mentioned to me, if there ever had been Negro pages before in the house," O'Hara said. "I did not want to push the boy into an integration battle which might prove embarrassing."
"I was assured that there had been Negro pages before. Now they contend the House never had one, but my grandson, Barratt III, told me that when he was a page there were Negro pages."
O'Hara, in Chicago to address his grandson's high school commencement exercises, said confusion arose when members of the House Patronage Committee thought O'Hara and Rep. Thomas J. O'Brien, also a Chicago Democrat, were appointing the same boy, Martin J. Oberman.
O'Hara, 76 and serving his fifth term in the House, said the committee apparently was not aware he had submitted a separate nomination, which was approved.
Veteran Capitol employees said they did not recall any Negro ever having served there as a page. There is one Negro page at the Supreme Court.

City in East Could Use Good Cowboy

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—New York City's neighboring Westchester County could sure use a few honest-to-gosh cowhands.
Five Black Angus steers have been on the loose since Dec. 20, and folks are beginning to get kind of put out because nobody can catch 'em.

They've been roaming over what seems like half the county giving people quite a fright, mowing up lawns and chewing up prize shrubbery.
Great posses of police and citizens have been after the critters day after day with cars, airplanes, helicopters, horses, walkie-talkies and tranquilized alfalfa hay.
But the steers are just as far from the corral as they ever were. Every time anybody gets near, they just go high-tailing off for somewhere else. Then frantic phone calls begin coming from people there.

Several times the local cowpokes have gotten pretty close. That's all they got, though, except for frustration and bramble scratches in scrambling away from the stampede.
One police officer had to take to a tree when a roundup was tried a few days ago. Another time a fellow didn't take off in time and wound up with a dislocated shoulder.
Six of the steers got away from the Norda Experimental Farm at the start. One was killed not long afterward. Officers brought out their heavy artillery when he went on a rampage during a corralling attempt.
That's what a lot of folks would like to see done with the rest of them.

Cincinnati 'Cinderella' Trial Mostly Tempest in Teapot

CINCINNATI (AP)—"A tempest in a teapot" — it's a very trite expression but it seems to fit what has become known as the trial of a "Cinderella." The trial should reach its end today.
